ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

As the lead agency responsible for the Environmental Protection Indicators for California Project, the Office of Environmental Health Hazard Assessment is pleased to present the project's first report. This report is the product of a year and a half effort to establish a process for developing environmental indicators, and to apply this process to generate an initial set of indicators.

OEHHA wishes to acknowledge the following individuals and organizations for their valuable contribution to the preparation of this report:

- The EPIC External Advisory Group, consisting of representatives from academia, environmental/public interest organizations, local government, and the regulated community.
- The EPIC Interagency Advisory Group, consisting of policy-level representatives from various state agencies.
- EPIC Project staff from Cal/EPA and its boards and departments, from the Resources Agency, from the Department of Health Services, and from the California Research Bureau.
- OEHHA's core EPIC Project staff: Daryn Dodge, Lubow Jowa, Linda Mazur, Carmen Milanes, David Siegel and Barbara Washburn.
- OEHHA's consultants, Gil Bergquist of the Florida State University Program and Policy, Program for Environmental Policy and Planning Systems, and Clint Whitney, R&G Associates.
